BLY URGE HIS CANDIDACY

FOR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR

As Leader for His Party in Legisla tive Work His Efforts Were Directly Along Safe and Conservative Lines.

JAMES J. KYLE.

Mr. Kyle was born Dec. 27, 1867, in a log cabin on a farm, near Kyle's Ford, E. Tenn. At an early age, his parents, by reason of poor health, were forced to quit the farm, and established a little country store. They were financially poor, but rich in aspirations for their children. They were of sterling qualities, and their children early learned the lessons of industry and economy. They gave their son the best advantages within their limited reach. Mr. Kyle's education commenced in a log cabin, dirt-floor, slab-benched school house, and was continued in the common schools of Tennessee, Curry College, Va., the Springfield Private Normal, where he also read law, and taking his last instructions in law at the University of Missouri. He says that it is inconvenient to be poor, but that it develops the best of a man made of the right stuff, and puts him in closer touch with the needs and demands of humanity.

He came to Ozark County, Missouri, with his parents in 1890. He began teaching at sixteen years of age and taught a number of years. He never had to "hunt" a school, the schools sought him and with increased wages. His accomplishments have been attained under adverse circumstances.

In 1902 he was married to Miss Ida V., daughter of Dr and Mrs. P. L. Cline of White Pine, Tennessee.

In 1908 he was elected to the Legislature, where his services gave him such recognition that he was re-elected to the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth General Assemblies. He was elected by the Republicans as their speaker and floor leader of the house in both the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth General Assemblies. His record is an open book. His efforts have ever been tending toward the advancement and betterment of mankind. He is a strong supporter of the common schools and an advocate of liberal support to higher education.

He believes that a state as well as an individual, should normally keep within its means.

Mr. Kyle can furnish pages of high commendations from the press and from prominent men all over the state, but suffice to say that ere he became a candidate, his own, and many other southern counties gave him strong endorsements. His congressional convention of the Fourteenth District, representing sixteen counties endorsed him as follows:

"Whereas, we are familiar with the personal and public record of J. J. Kyle of Thornfield, Ozark County, and because of that acquaintance and because of having full and complete confidence in his ability and integrity as a citizen and his fidelity to every trust imposed by the important offices he has held, and feeling that the age demands the services in this state of a man of wide business experience, known integrity, dynamic energy, and one who has been closely associated with Missouri's history in the past, therefore be it

Resolved, that we endorse the candidacy of James J. Kyle for the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor of Missouri, and that we invite and urge the co-operation of all good citizens of the State of Missouri in securing his nomination and election with full assurance that if elected he will conduct the affairs of this important office in a manner to reflect credit to himself and to the entire state."

The conservative, judicious records of the Republican membership of the Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth General Assemblies, led by Mr. Kyle, as compared with that of the opposition, will contribute greatly towards making Missouri Republican in November.

School Notes

The following clerks' reports have been received and accepted: 2, 9, 17, 23, 27, 38, 39, 45, 46, 50, 53, 55, 61, 64, 65, 69, 73, 81, 85, 88, 89, 94, 4, 10, 15, 16, 18, 25, 28, 32, 34, 35, 36, 37, 41, 43, 44, 51, 52, 59, 60, 63, 66, 70, 72, 74, 80, 83, 86, 92, 95, 99, 6, 30, 34, 68, 11, 57, 79, 13, 77, 61, 58, 78, 1, 60, 100, 42, 19.

This leaves twenty-eight districts not yet heard from. I trust that the next statement may show a full list of the reports in the county.

With the township trustees financial statement and the teachers' term report in hand, the clerk can make his report in less than twenty-five minutes.

The annual meeting of teachers and school boards will be held in Brookfield, August 17 and 18. We shall expect a full attendance at this meeting.

The next teachers' examination will be held in Brookfield, August 4 and 5.

All rural schools should begin on the first Monday or the second Monday in August. There should be no divided term.

Now is an excellent time to clean off the school grounds. We are now taking photographs of some of the best kept schools and some of the most poorly kept. The state department expects to use photographs in his report.

I am very anxious that our schools show that our school boards are awake to the trend of the times.

Some of the school grounds have been mowed lately but not cleaned off.

The girls' "cold pack" canning clubs, so far as heard from, are progressing nicely.

To stimulate this work, small prizes will be offered at the August meeting.

Very respectfully,
E. L. JOYCE.

Rucker and Lozier For Painter

While we are engaged in a campaign for the nomination for congressman in the 2nd congressional district we are both interested in the other candidates who are aspirants for state offices in the state of Missouri.

We earnestly request every friend of ours in the district to help, aid and assist and to vote for W. R. Painter of Carrollton, for the democratic nomination for governor. We believe that the democrats in this district ought to be loyal to him and we know that if the second district gives him the vote it should in this campaign he will receive the nomination for governor. So again we urge all of our friends to vote and work for him at the primary on August the first.

W. R. RUCKER.

Republicans, Attention!

Will you permit the bright prospects we had for success, in this admittedly misgoverned state, to be fritted away, because of internal rows? These rows are not of your making. They are enforced upon you by alleged party leaders, leaders without constituency; self-appointed leaders striving for mastery in local political offices, apparently regardless of the welfare of this great state, or the success of the republican party at this fall's election.

In the city of St. Louis, there are two political factions contending for mastery or control of that city. Each has paid emissaries throughout the state, which are bent upon destruction of the candidate for governor supported by the others

The Stiefel-Howe Crowd Say:

"Swanger Shall Not Win"

The Keil-Schmoll Crowd Say:

"Lamm Cannot Win"

Both make threats as to the results on ELECTION DAY, should the other succeed on PRIMARY DAY.

To republicans in the state, this situation must be intolerable.

The success of either faction invites defeat.

If the golden opportunity to elect our state ticket, and cast the electoral vote of Missouri for Hughes and Fairbanks is lost, the responsibility will fall upon the shoulders of the individual republicans of the state. One republican is as powerful and influential as any other republican at the primary August 1st. There is a candidate asking for your suffrage at the August primary who cannot be unknown to you, for he has led or assisted in leading every successful state campaign republicans have enjoyed within the memory of most men living. He has especial executive ability, temperament and poise. He is safe, sane and sound on all party principles. He is true as steel to his convictions. He has always stood four-square for his party. There are no menace of political throat-cutting, should he be nominated. He is not tainted with the poison of factionalism. He is a man of intense patriotism, magnetic personality and a natural leader.

That Man is Charles D. Morris, of St. Joseph, Mo.

Why not vote for Morris for Governor and induce your neighbors and friends to vote for him at the primary, August 1st, 1916.

FOR U. S. SENATOR

Those who know Walter S. Dickey know that he is, first of all, a patriot and after that a Republican whose devotion to his party is based on his conviction that it stands for what is best in Nation and State and who is therefore incapable of being swerved from party loyalty by any consideration of merely personal ambition or aggrandizement, either for himself or anybody else. That's the sort of Republican Walter S. Dickey has always been. He gave the party more than thirty years of unselfish and forceful service before he became a candidate for favors at its hands. Mr. Dickey is a candidate for the nomination for United States Senator because assurances have come to him from all parts of the state that his nomination will strengthen the ticket and help to guarantee its victory. He considers that no man ought to be nominated for any office unless he is the strongest man that can be chosen for that place, because he regards Republican victory this year of more importance than any man's personal ambition.
